

STAR OF TOMORROW AWARD RECIPIENT

FONTAINE ELISE McFEATERS

YEAR AWARDED: 2014

GROVE CITY, PENNSYLVANIA

Our next recipient is also a workaholic in the classroom as well as on the lanes. She boasts a 3.9 GPA on a 4.0 scale and has been a member of Grove City Area High School's Student Council, the Secretary of the Interact Club, and is a participant in Theatre, the Thespian Society and an inductee in National Honor Society. She is also a fixture at her local bowling center as well. She has participated in over 15 tournaments and has accomplished many great feats in these tournaments including an all event championship in 2008 and 2011. In 2011, she also was first in singles and third in doubles for the respective divisions. She is also a member of her high school's golf team and volunteers her time at her local hospital and is a member of her local Young Life Chapter to help impressionable young people make good and prudent decisions.

Her essay was, again, critical of the USBC in certain areas. She realizes that bowling begins at the grassroots level. She recognized the importance of youth participation and suggested offering more coaching classes and making it easier for those who want to advance their game to do so.

The Star of Tomorrow Award places an emphasis on service to community, country as well as performance of the lanes. Simply because someone is a great athlete does not mean they are a leader, and conversely because someone is a great leader does not mean they are a great athlete. It just so happens that this year, both recipients excel at whatever it is they set their mind to. At this time, I would like to recognize this year's second Star of Tomorrow recipient, Fontaine Elise McFeaters.
